

Improve claims payment rate to maximize cash flow and reduce accounts receivable days

Few areas of the revenue cycle impact the speed-to-payment as much as an effective and efficient claims processing system. Even small gaps or deficiencies in workflow can create redundancies, errors and rework that cost your health care systems millions in denied or delayed payments. Every claim must be closely scrutinized to ensure that your health system is compliant with new payment models and continually changing rules and regulations. In addition, you must have sound documentation, to prevent revenue take-back and fines from RAC auditors for claims that have been improperly billed. While patient accounting systems include some functionality for claims processing, they leave your health system the work of managing payer rules and requirements and managing every step in the process from billing to payment reconciliation. Most health systems address the challenge through claims processing technology and clearinghouse services. But all claims processors are not alike. nThrive views claims and billing as an integral component of an overall Patient-to-PaymentSM solution.

nThrive's Claims Management focuses on improving revenue cycle profitability, while enhancing overall operational efficiency and accountability. Our Claims Management solution provides your health system with speed, functionality and scalability that was recognized by KLAS as the Claims Management Category Leader for the 2015/2016 survey.

DECREASE DENIALS AND IMPROVE CASH FLOW WITH COMPREHENSIVE CLAIMS EDITING

Your cash flow can be rapidly impacted by break-downs in your claims processing. To avoid denials and rework, your health system must be able to manage the complexity of every payer's claims and billing scenario requirements including coding policy and checking for errors to ensure claims are ready for processing. nThrive's claims editing technology automates the analysis of every claim for payer requirements, so your staff are freed to address only the claims that require issue resolution. Here are some of the ways that our editing technology brings value to your health system:

- Real-time edits pinpoint claims needing correction to ensure accurate information is presented to payers the first time
 - Our over 98 percent payer claims acceptance rate means you get paid faster, reduce denials, increase staff productivity and lower your cost to collect
 - Bridge the gap in errors that your patient accounting system won't catch. Our solution has proven results that capture errors and prevent denials that patient accounting systems don't.
- Comprehensive claims management includes more than 24,000 edits for institutional and professional claims. Examples include:
 - Compliance edits for CCI, LCD/NCD, APC, MCE, OCE
