SUCCESS STORIES

Career Path Success

When an international service employees union in the west considered a program to offer its members training certifications in HIM roles, they turned to nThrive Education. A pilot program was tested with 10 employees from a major health care organization. They went through the coursework and then tested to become ambulatory coders. All 10 employees passed and are now certified.

Vast Knowledge Center of Education

"... nThrive gave a demonstration of some of the invaluable resources that they have available. I had no idea how incredible (their) site really is! I thought it was just for earning CEUs ... There is so much more to it ... I hope you will be as amazed as I was! I had a total 'where have you been all my life?' reaction ..."

– Health care organization director in a note to her colleagues

Promising Future for Colleagues

Another health care organization found the right candidate within their ranks to promote to supervisor, except the candidate did not possess the necessary credentials. Fortunately, she was able to take the courses and prep tests through nThrive Education, which helped her pass and earn the CCS certification. The same organization used nThrive Education to train nurses to become coders. Thanks to the thorough education program, all successfully passed their exams and earned their certification.
